Bass for all!

Teufel's new CONCEPT active subwoofers lay a solid foundation of bass for five small to medium satellite speakers. The speakers are powered by the subwoofer directly, which also has inputs for TVs or PCs. With two subwoofer sizes and a variety of speaker bundles, you can find the optimal audio solution for all needs – from small gaming rooms to big living rooms . The CONCEPT 8 is equipped with a down-firing driver, which has a diameter of 20 centimeters (8 inches) and can go as low as 33 Hz. With its front-facing 30-centimeter (12 inch) bass driver, the CONCEPT 12 delivers even more bass performance, with kick bass as deep as 22 Hz. Both subs can power 5.1 setups as well as classic stereo arrangements with just two satellites (2.1 sets).

Surround Sound for all!

Teufel has put together a number of attractive complete sets to mark the launch of the CONCEPT series, bundling them with the ultra-compact CONSONO 25, the versatile CONSONO 35, and the powerful ULTIMA 20 speakers. Each CONCEPT subwoofer comes equipped with a 25-meter roll of speaker cable so customers can have the freedom to set up their systems however they like. All key functions can be managed using a control panel on the top of the subwoofer, which is practical for setups where the subwoofer is under a desk. If your set has the sub farther away, though, it also comes with a remote control.

Connectivity for all!

Both subwoofers are Bluetooth capable for smart phone playback, and offer USB-C with sound card for use with a PC or Mac. TVs are best connected with HDMI so ARC can handle audio signals from all sources and send them to the subwoofer. That way, the CONCEPT subwoofers can exchange control signals with TVs and other compatible HDMI products using a single connection. In practice, that means the system will turn on at the same time as the TV, and the volume can be regulated using the TV's standard remote control. Both CONCEPT models also have digital optical and analog RCA stereo inputs.
