Enjoy the freedom of wireless

The case of the AIRY TRUE WIRELESS protects the wireless earphones and fully recharges them up to three times. One charge of the earphones is enough for over 6 hours of music playback and after just 15 minutes in the case, the earphones have enough energy for another hour of playback. Three LEDs on the charging case indicate the battery status, and you can also see the battery status directly on your Android or iOS device. Thanks to their compact size and a flyweight of just under 50 grams, these earphones can really be taken anywhere and anytime. The AIRY TRUE WIRELESS earphones are not only suitable for music, games, films and audiobooks. They also cut a fine figure as a hands-free calling kit. An additional microphone reduces ambient noise and echoes during phone calls.

The power of touch

Both earphones are equipped with touch control. This can be used to control music playback (play, pause, skip forwards and backwards), accept, reject and end calls, as well as call up the phone's respective voice assistant (Google Assistant, Siri).

Ready for the outdoor world

Teufel supplies three pairs of different sized earplugs made of soft, skin-friendly silicone. These ensure that the earplugs fit perfectly in the ear canal, providing the best possible sound with convincing bass performance and a secure hold in the ear. Thanks to IPX5 protection anyone who gets caught in the rain or takes part in sweaty sports with their AIRY TRUE WIRELESS does not need to worry about damaging the precious earphones.
